STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

At present the law that governs intestate succession among Fuses is that laid down in 1845 in Act No. XXXI of that year. It is true that said Act has been amended by the Indian Succession Act No. XXXIX of 1925 but this law made no change in the law, as all the provisions of the Act of 1925 have been incorporated verbatim in sections 45 to 50, and Schedule II, Parts I and II, of the Act of 1935. It has been laid for a long time by members of the Fuso Community that this enactment, more than 50 years old, requires amendment both in form and substance for various reasons. The working of some of its provisions is doubtful, some of these details have been covered by judicial decisions. It is also necessary in some respects, and some of these deficiencies have had to be supplied by other judicial decisions. Certain other changes seem necessary in accordance with present day Fuso customs and usage. The arrangement and language also require some revision. In order to remove doubts, supply deficiencies, incorporate as far as possible the judicial decisions which the Government has accepted, introduce changes judiciously desired and make the arrangements more convenient as far as possible to the public. In making these reforms, so far as arrangements and language are concerned, where parts of the Act of 1905 have as far as possible been followed, e.g., in introducing sub-branches as in the pattern Chapter relating to minute arrangements among the Public as to the parts of the subject as a whole. The provisions like the sections of the Act of 1905 have been numbered 30 to 35 as they may be substituted for the original sections of the Act of 1905 now in force.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of State on the 25th February 1939:—

C. OF S. BILL No. 4 OF 1939.

4 Bill to amend the First Marriage and Divorce Act, 1926

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the First Marriage and Divorce Act, 1926, in the manner set out below:—

1 This Act may be called the First Marriage and Divorce (Amendment) Act, 1939.

Enacted,

2. In section 46 of the First Marriage and Divorce Act, 1926,—
 - (a) in sub-section (1), after the words "the husband shall" the words "while the wife remains chaste and unmarried" shall be inserted;
 - (b) in clause (a) of sub-section (2), the words "while she remains chaste and unmarried" shall be inserted;
 - (c) after sub-section (2) the following sub-section shall be added:—

"(2A) All orders for alimony or maintenance in force at the date made under the provisions of the First Marriage and Divorce Act, 1926, so far as the provisions of this Act, shall cease to have effect if after the passing of such order the wife has remained or has not remained chaste."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The First Marriage and Divorce Act, CXV of 1926 was found defective and nothing in particular therein to amend the present day needs of the community and evidently attention was called on by number of years to the members of the First Marriage and Divorce Act, 1926, as far as the provisions of the First Marriage and Divorce Act, 1926, was found to be defective and it was found to be necessary to amend the First Marriage and Divorce Act, 1926, in the manner set out below.

2. Amongst changes introduced by the Act of 1926 was a change in the law with regard to the payment of permanent alimony to the wife on the passing of any decree under the Act. There was a strong expression of opinion in the community that the payment of permanent alimony to the wife should cease only while she remained chaste and unmarried and be discontinued if she either did not remain chaste or if she remarried. The law relating to grant of permanent alimony was therefore changed by section 46 of the Act of 1926.

3. Section 46, sub-section (1), of the Act of 1926 provided that in the following manner:—

- "46 (1) The Court may, if it shall think fit at the time of passing any decree under this Act or subsequently thereon, as a condition made to it for the purpose, order that the husband shall—
 - (a) in the satisfaction of the Court, agree to the wife while she remains chaste and unmarried such gross sum or such monthly or periodical payment of money for a term not exceeding her life as, having regard to her own property, if any, her husband's ability and the conduct of the wife, shall be deemed just; and, for that purpose may require a proper instrument to be executed by all necessary parties and amend the proceedings of the decree with such amendments shall have been duly inserted; or
 - (b) make such monthly payments to the wife for her maintenance and support as the Court may think reasonable.

In case any such order shall not be obeyed by the husband it may be enforced in the manner provided for the execution of decrees and orders under the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, and further the husband may be sued by the person supplying the wife with necessaries on during the time of such disobedience for the price of such necessaries."

4. It will be noticed that the order for payment of permanent alimony to the wife is supplemented by clause (a) and (b) of sub-section (2) of section 23 which in cases, in the one case, viz. that recited in clause (a), the payment is "secured" by a charge on the husband's property, or the other case, viz., that recited by clause (b), is a periodical order on the husband to issue "monthly payments" to the wife. It will also be noticed that in the first case recited by clause (a) the intention, namely, that the payment is to continue only till the death or remarriage of the wife, is clearly expressed, whereas in the second case recited in clause (b) the said intention is strenuously insisted to be expressed by the Legislature.

5. The intent of the framers of the Act of 1928 definitely was to make the payment of alimony of any sort cease if the wife at any time after the order has become valid becomes pregnant or marries. Unfortunately, however, the expression "while she remains chaste and unmarried" which should properly have found place in the beginning before clause (a) and (b) so as to cover both the said clauses was placed in clause (b) and unfortunately omitted from clause (a). This has caused confusion in parties and the Hon'ble High Court, in a matter which came up before it in General Order 29 January Last (Bharwan, page 108, Shankar Nathbhai Travla vs. Shindebhai Jankibhai Yashwanth), observed the mistake to give effect to the intention of the framers of the Act of 1928 in view of the language employed in section 23 of the Act of 1928.

6. Amending the Act is therefore intended to remove the doubt and to express more clearly the intention of the framers of the Act.

The 29 December 1935.

Secretary to the Government of India.

The following Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to make further provision for safety in coal mines was presented to the Legislative Assembly on the 26th February 1923:—

We, the undersigned, members of the Select Committee to which the Bill to make further provision for safety in coal mines was referred, have considered the Bill, and have now the honor to submit this our Report, with the Bill as amended by an attached schedule.

Class 3.—By adding a word to make the title more appropriate and we have called the entire class to exclude those persons in the real names of which showing is not an applicable instance; the power to exempt because no longer necessary.

Class 2.—We insert definitions of soft and hard soils, and make a small drawing illustrating the two substances.

Class 3.—We have spent this class on the interests of greater clarity, and the amendments in class 4 are inconsequential upon the purpose.

Class 8.—Our conclusion is in fact it does that the assistance, may take the form of materials for mining.

Classes 8 and 10 of the BSE referred to as we work, in the former run because we do not consider that the assembly for the encouragement of showing will pass within our time. The latter class we work because we find that the proposal to make deductions not of expenses is not a practical proposition. (We have consequently reorganized the classes of the BSE)

Class II (see class I).—The syndrome is epidemic II) is nonfatal. There is evidence II) easily detectable infection.

Class 21 has class 10.—The amendments are unopposed.

¹ The D-2 was published in the Gazette of India, dated the 17th February, 1935.

2. We think that the DB has not been as altered as to improve evaluation, and we recommend that it be passed as now amended.

MINUTES OF DEBATE

I do not approve of the constitution of the Board provided by clause 3 of the Bill. The Board as proposed is dominated by the representatives of the coal producing companies. I would have preferred an agency based as suggested by the Coal Mines Commission. But if it is to be a representative Board, I suggest that there should be two representatives of miners appointed in accordance with section 30 (1) (a) of the Indian Mines Act.

3. I also do not approve of the constitution of the Committee of Inquiry to be appointed under clause 21 of the Bill as reported by the Select Committee. I would prefer the Committee to be constituted in accordance with section 11 of the Indian Museum Act, 1880, however, this is not accepted. I would propose (1a) there should be one representative of the science of the Committee.

3. I suggest that Government of India should place a report of the working of this Act before the Central Legislature and Members be supplied with the report.

M. K. JOSHI.

The 16th February 1935.

We would have referred a more comprehensive measure for safety in coal mines which would have covered all the major recommendations of the Coal Mining Committee. We are assured that other recommendations on ventilation and safety are being considered. As a solution, therefore, the proposal in clause 3 (1) (a) about additional functions of safety becomes necessary. We hope that Government, in consultation with the Provincial Governments concerned and also the various interests affected, will be able to legislate at an early date for greater conservation of coal and safety of miners.

4. We proposed for the following changes in the Bill, either for improvement or to do away with it altogether. We hope the House will incorporate them by suitable amendments.

(a) The Bill was called the "Coal Mines Safety Act." Amendments are to be moved to all relevant clauses by dropping the word "Mining."

(b) Amendment to clause 2 (1): There should be no representation of Provincial Government here, and it. We had working persons—Bengal, Bihar and C.P.

"Regulation of mines and collieries and mineral development subject to the provisions of Part I with respect to regulation and development under Federal Control" is a provincial subject (vide Part II India Act, 1935). Some of the members of our delegation did not feel that any responsibility lies with the Provincial Government concerned. We could not understand our opponents the shortness of the Government to the inclusion of representatives of the three Provincial Governments.

(c) Our proposal to limit the maximum rate of rent at two annas (which it was not accepted). We are assured that at the present rate one anna (one) will be better. Even at this rate a little more than Rs. 15 has not been collected for the mining fund. We have confidence of other coal fields where a lower maxima rate was fixed and later on the House was asked to increase the maxima rate. We hope the House will accept our suggestion.

(d) Clause 21 (3) being all clause 21 (1).—For the legislative committee we proposed that "Two members appointed by the Provincial Government concerned to represent interests of persons employed in coal mines" instead of one person to be appointed by the Central Government. We met similar opposition as referred in our clause 2 (2).

(e) Clause 13 (a) clause 14.—Our amendment at the end of the clause in the Bill—

"Provided that such rules should not come into force before they are laid on the table for one month in both Chambers of the Central Legislature."

was accepted. We have the procedure in the Insurance Act and as the rules affect the safety of the mines and houses of persons employed therein, we feel that the House will incorporate the safety provisions.

5. The Coal Mining Committee recommended strengthening of the staff of Mine Inspectors. We are assured that suitable supervising staff would be employed.

S. DAB.

The 16th February 1935.

I endorse the above except 3 (3) and 3 (4).

The following Bill^a was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 22nd February 1936:—

L.A. BILL No. 7 OF 1936.

A Bill to amend the punishment of Whipping.

WHEREAS the punishment of Whipping has come to be regarded as a relic of feudal and times, it is expedient to amend it accordingly; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. (1) This Act may be called the Amendment of Whipping Act, 1908, and shall extend to the whole of British India, including British Baluchistan and the North-West Frontier Province.

(2) It extends to the whole of British India, including British Baluchistan and the North-West Frontier Province.

3. Notwithstanding anything contained in any Act or Rules or regulations or other provisions relating to the law, Whipping is not a legal punishment in British India.

4. The Whipping Act, 1908, is hereby repealed.

Enacted at Fort St. George, this 22nd day of February, 1936.

^a The Bill was passed by the Legislative Assembly on the 22nd February 1936, and by the Governor-General in Council on the 23rd February 1936.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Whipping, as a legal punishment is a relic of barbarous days, and having both the Government who inflict it to be regarded as a relic, and the people who receive it in the mode of cruel and inhuman. Nearly all civilized Governments have abolished it altogether and where it is retained, it is reserved for extremely heinous offences attended with serious injury. The Whipping Act No. 24 of 1908 provided Whipping for the punishment of offences as less than for a few grave offences. Whipping is quite degrading and is not only a relic of the past, but is also attended by serious hardship and humiliating to the person. The object of this Bill is to abolish Whipping as a legal punishment.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 16th February 1939.—

L.A. BILL No. 2 OF 1939.

A Bill to amend the Passports Act, 1924, for certain purposes.

Whereas it is expedient further to amend the Passports Act, 1924, for removing the duplication of the subjects of Native States in India in relation with the Majesty's Government, it is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. (1) This Act may be called the Passports (Amendment) Act, 1939.
(2) It shall extend to the whole of British India.
(3) It shall come into force by Order in Council.
2. After section 1 of the Passports Act, 1924, the following shall be inserted as section 1A, namely:—
“(1A) Nothing in this Act shall be deemed to apply to subjects of Native States in India in relation with the Majesty's Government.”

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

In the course of the last four years it has been found that subjects of Native States were dealt with under Act III of 1924. Things have substantially changed since this Act was passed and was amended in 1925. In view of the present political situation and developments in the country it is necessary to evolve a separate citizenship Act there. But all obstacles in that direction should be removed.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 16th January 1938:—

L.A. BILL No. 36 OF 1938

A Bill to control the Coastal Traffic of India

Whereas it is expedient to encourage the development of an Indian Merchant Marine,

And whereas for this purpose it is expedient to control unfair competition in the Coastal Traffic of India,

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. (1) This Act may be called the Coastal of Coastal Traffic of India Act, 1938.

(2) It extends to the whole of the coastal trade of British India, and of the dominions of India.

(3) It shall come into force on such date as the Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India, appoint.

2. When the Governor General in Council is satisfied from a statement submitted, signed or attested in that behalf by a person who is a member of the coastal traffic of British India or of the dominions of India, by the lowering of the usual rates of fare or freight or by the grant of rebates or other concessions in any such statement, it shall, subject to the provisions of the Government of India Act, be lawful for him to prescribe, from time to time, by rules notified in the Gazette of India, the maximum rates of fare or freight between any ports in India or in possession by or under the protection of the United Kingdom the grant of any rebate or concession which in his opinion tends to unfair competition.

3. Any person who^a in the opinion of the Governor General in Council, contravenes any such rule or regulation shall be deemed to be guilty of an offence under this Act, and shall, on conviction, be liable to be detained in any gaol or other place of detention in India under the control of the Government of India, or of any Provincial Government for such period or under such conditions as the Governor General in Council may direct.

Explanation.—A person shall include any company or association or body of individuals whether incorporated or not.

4. The Governor General in Council may, by notification, make rules to regulate the carrying on the business of the Act, in particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely:—

(a) for the procedure for complaint against or report about unfair competition;

(b) for enquiry into such complaint or report;

(c) for the deposition of the penalty of refusal of entry of any ship into any port and for the enforcement thereof.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Bill is introduced to remove a possible impediment to the growth and development of the Indian Merchant Marine. There is no question of any discrimination between British and Indian Shipping. Past experience, however, shows that a well conducted postal Company engaged in coastal traffic can easily put a new system out of action by unfair competition, e.g., re-rigging, grant of rebates, etc. The fear of unfair competition deters Indian capital being invested in coastal shipping. If the Governor General in Council be given power to prevent such suspension, the law will be simply altered and a new line of commercial activity may be opened up in India. In this bill, power is given to the Governor General in Council, when he is satisfied that public convenience exists, to fix maximum rates of fare and weight (or to prohibit the grant of rebates on other railways which are subjected to railway work maximum rates. Commutation of rate rules provided by the Statutes General in Council or any alteration given by him with respect to the grant of rebates is hereby prohibited with due to effect of duty to be before pass.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 18th February 1935:—

L.A. BILL No. 11 OF 1935.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Penal Code.

Whereas it is necessary and expedient that the proceedings and speeches in Indian Legislatures should be published in the widest possible manner, It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Penal Code (Amendment) Bill, 1935.

(2) It shall extend to the whole of British India.

2. After section 53 of the Indian Penal Code the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

"53A. No publication made in good faith, of any speech or speeches in any Indian Legislature is an offence."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

It is proper and necessary that, for the due and effective exercise and discharge of its functions and duties of the Indian Legislatures, and of the members thereof, and for the promotion of unity and good work in the Legislatures, an obstruction or impediment should exist in the way of the publication, not only in official reports, but in the newspapers and journals of the country, of the speeches, votes, and proceedings of the Indian Legislatures. The recent remark of the President of the Legislative Assembly given at the point of question raised by Sardar Nani Singh, M.A., in connection with the publication of his speech by Mr. Krishna Kanta Shastri, M.A., in the Al-Balagh, has brought the issue again to the fore. The present position is exceedingly dangerous for the Legislatures, for the people, and for the Press. Parliamentary work is likely to become a farce if the spoken word publicly is not given in the widest manner. It is imperative to expect the newspapers to exercise editorial discretion as to the publication of the speeches of the members of the Legislatures before publishing them. It is not right that the House of Assembly, the Executive Council under the Panch Act, or any other public body should have more than one voice. However the citizens would like to have the true representation of what and when in the Legislatures is what they want them to be. The Press from time to time a privilege is conferred by Parliament has been secured in England by the fact of Baines that the freedom of speech, debate or proceedings in Parliament ought not to be impeded.

There is no danger of abuse of this power of publication of the speeches made in the Assembly, because Standing Order 59 of the Legislative Assembly provides that a member while speaking shall not utter irreverent, obscene or defamatory words. Without this right the freedom of speech of the members of the Indian Legislatures may be reduced to almost nothing, and the Bill is perfectly consistent with the provisions of the Government of India Act, which under section 61 (1) provides that "No person shall be liable in any proceedings in any court for words of his speech or vote in either Chamber, or for reasons of speaking contained in any official report of the proceedings of either chamber." These official reports are available to any citizen at reasonable prices. Excerpts of the proceedings in other newspapers cannot contain any defamatory material. Hence this bill

The following Bill* was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 18th February 1938—

L.A. BILL No. 12 OF 1938

4 This Bill makes provision as regard to entry, residence, the acquisition, holding or disposal of property, franchises, the holding of public office or the carrying on of any occupation, trade, business or profession in British India by persons domiciled in the British Possessions on a basis of reciprocity.

Whereas it is expedient to make provision as regard to entry, residence, franchises, the acquisition, holding or disposal of property, franchises, the holding of public office, or the carrying on of any occupation, trade, business or profession in British India by persons domiciled in the British Possessions on a basis of reciprocity; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

- 1 (a) This Act may be called the Passports Act, 1938. Enacting, short and simple title
- (b) It shall extend to the whole of British India.
- (c) It shall come into force on such date as the Governor General in Council may notify in the Gazette of India.
- 2 In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant to the subject substance or context,—
 - (a) "British Possessions" means any part of His Majesty's Dominions other than British India and the United Kingdom and includes Possessions and territories which are at any time administered by a Dominion as a mandatory or held of the League of Nations; and
 - (b) "entry" includes landing in any port in British India during the course of the ship's stay on her way to a destination outside British India.
- 3 Persons not being of Indian origin, domiciled in any British Possession shall have no greater rights and privileges as regards entry, residence, the acquisition, holding or disposal of property, franchises, the holding of public office, or the carrying on of any occupation, trade, business or profession in British India than are accorded by the law and administration of such Possession to persons of Indian descent.
- 4 If any person alleged to be domiciled in any British Possession and to be subject to the provisions of this Act, pleads that he is not so domiciled, or that the provisions of this Act do not apply to him, the onus of proving the truth of such a plea shall be on him.
- 5 If the Governor General in Council shall make rules for Passports, Enacting, short and simple title
 - (a) all rules shall be notified in the Gazette of India and shall thereupon have the effect of law.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The treatment meted out to Indian citizens and their disabilities have been matters of deep concern to the Indian community since the 30s years. In 1925 at the Imperial War Conference the right of each community to control the composition of its own population was recognized as a legitimate part of which was an inherent right the removal of the disabilities to which Indians already residing in other parts of the Empire were subjected should be given early consideration. In 1927, at the Imperial Conference a resolution was passed which affirmed the right of a Dominion to restrict immigration and gave expression in the following: "There is an incompatibility between the position of India as an equal member of the British India and the influence of disabilities upon British Indians (largely described in some other parts of the Report and the annexure to it) upon which in the interests of the solidarity of the British Commonwealth, it is desirable that the rights of such Indians to citizenship should be recognized. The provisions of 1833 and 1852 are known as restrictive enactments. From the passing of these enactments the Government of India, with the help of the Hon'ble Mr. Johnstone Dunning, tried to solve the problem of the Indian citizens by means of legislation, and though in some respects the solution has slightly departed, in others, it has considerably narrowed the matter of race's acquisition and retention of Indian citizenship. Its enactments have failed to achieve any complete settlement with some of the independent British Possessions existing nearby but to put into effect the principle of reciprocity which is the object of the Bill. Citizens equally cannot be had reciprocity should be entered.

The following Bill, was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 18th January 1893.

L.A. BILL No. 13 OF 1893.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Salt Act, 1884, for a certain purpose.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Salt Act, 1884, for the purpose hereinafter appearing, it is hereby enacted as follows:

1. This Act may be called the Indian Salt (Amendment) Act, 1893.

2. At the end of section 2 of the Indian Salt Act, 1884, the following paragraph shall be added, namely:—

" Nothing contained in this section shall be deemed to prohibit or restrict in any manner the sending of village, householdly adjoining areas where salt can be collected or made, from collecting or making salt for domestic consumption or use within such village but not for sale or for trading with individuals living outside them."

" The Governor General has been pleased to direct the revenue authorities specified in the foregoing section to give effect to the provisions of section 2 of the Indian Salt Act, 1884, as amended by this Act."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

By clause 20 of the Agreement between His Majesty's Government and Lord Dufferin published in the Gazette of India Extraordinary of March 8, 1892, it was provided that—

" For the sake however of giving relief to certain of the poorer classes, they are proposed to extend their administrative powers in India already possessing in certain places in order at present local markets in villages, immediately adjoining areas where salt can be collected or made, to collect or make salt for domestic consumption or use within such villages, but not for sale or for trading with individuals living outside them."

This enactment was in general operation in 1892 and 1893 but has been since withdrawn from most of the areas where there are natural facilities for making salt, thereby leaving much discontent and hardship to the poor people who benefited by it. The object of the Bill is to place this enactment on a statutory basis, leaving the Government free to take such steps as may be necessary to prevent breaches of the conditions attached to the enactment.

2. In section 3 of the Queens Loan Act, 1925 hereinafter referred to as the said Act,—
(a) in sub-section (1),—

(i) in clause (b), for the word "and" occurring at the end of the word "or" shall be substituted;

(ii) for the words "may exercise all or any of the following powers" the words "shall exercise all the following powers" or all such of them as may not be inappropriate in the case shall be substituted; and all in the proviso;—

(b) the brackets and figures "a" and "b" occurring in clause (i) shall be omitted; and all clause 4-0 shall be omitted;

(c) in sub-section (2),—

(i) for clause (a) the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"(a) In this section, "interest" means:—

(i) in sums of interest calculated at the rate of six per cent per annum with annual compounding

(ii) if the Queens Bank of India's rate at the date of the loan exceeds three per cent per annum, in sums of interest calculated at three and such above-said Queens Bank rate with annual compounding.

Provided that if the Queens Bank declares that having regard to the risk involved in its operations, or such as before to have appeared to the creditor at the date of the loan a lower rate of interest was reasonable, all interest in excess of such rate shall be deemed "earnings"; and

(ii) the Queens Bank shall be omitted; and

4. After section 4 of the said Act, the following section shall be added, namely:—

"5. Any person who makes an attempt to evade the provisions of this Act respecting the maximum rate of interest by actually or ostensibly making a further sum than that allowed in the agreement or contract entered into by the debtor or in any other manner whatsoever, shall be deemed to have committed an offence under this Act, and shall be liable to a fine not exceeding the sum of ten thousand rupees and (b) twice the amount which has been paid or due in respect of such interest or would have been paid or due if the attempted evasion had been successfully carried out."

Amendment of section 3, sub-section 1, clause (b), of 1925.

Amendment of section 4, sub-section 1, of 1925.

Section 5 of 1938.

Section 5 of 1938.

Section 5 of 1938.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

It is an estimated fact that the high rate of interest forms a heavy burden and is one of the chief causes of agricultural indebtedness. It is also well known that low rates of interest prevailing in the Colon have little effect on the numerous sales proceeding in the open market. The object of the Bill is to lower the rate of interest and it is to relieve the farmers from the exploitation and restriction of money-lenders. The simplest method of doing this is to amend the Debenture Loans Act, 1885. The measure has been adopted in a revised form and it is hoped that this Bill will be a greatly needed.

The following Bill¹ was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 19th February 1933.—

S.A. BILL No. 12 OF 1933.

1. To amend the Indian States (Protection against Defamation) Act, 1922, for a review purpose.

2. To amend the Indian States (Protection against Defamation) Act, 1922, for the purpose (hereinafter referred to) as is hereby enacted as follows:—

3. This Act may be called the Indian States (Protection against Defamation) Amendment Act, 1933.

4. After subsection (1) of section 2 of the Indian States (Protection against Defamation) Act, 1922, the following subsection shall be inserted, namely:—

"(1b) Every person accused of committing an offence under the section shall be presumed and tried as a Court of law on the basis of evidence which such persons were provided and in every case the appeal shall lie to a High Court of Judicature."

¹ The first part of the Bill has passed through the previous session subject of change in section 2 of the Indian States (Protection against Defamation) Act, 1922.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The object of this Bill is to amend the Indian States (Protection against Defamation) Act, 1922, so as to make it clear that the publication of an offence committed under the Act can only take place in the law or district where such publications were first printed or where the editor or author of a newspaper or book or document usually resides. A person usually resides at the place where his newspaper is printed. Cases have occurred in the past when persons, who have obtained the publication of an order in a court where the offending document has been sent, thereby causing undue hardship to the editor or author to defend his case. At the time when the Indian States (Protection against Defamation) Act, 1922, was enacted, the Government gave assurance that in every case of prosecution the defendant will have the right of appeal to a High Court. The latter part of subsection (1b), if passed, will replace the intention of the Government as definitely expressed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS...

The number of Indian exports is considerably larger in this than in 1994. They have taken up large industries almost, mostly in industries which are present in some part of the British Empire. Indian subjects are present in these States of lower numbers and as their activities are restricted to the Indian Empire, they are not so numerous as the Indian subjects in a large country. The question concerning Indian subjects in British India is of a similar character. STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The legal profession has now been in existence in British India for about 120 years. It is a recognized institution, but it still consists of different grades with different claims.

There has been a natural and growing desire and consciousness in the profession that all the different grades and distinctions should be abolished and that there should be only one grade of lawyers, practising in all the courts—from the High Courts down to the District, Criminal and Sessions Courts.

Another equally strong feeling which has grown up is that the Bar in British India, should have substantial autonomy in the management of its own affairs and should free itself from the control of the courts.

The feeling found its expression first in the Resolutions passed by Councils of the Bar in the Legislative Assembly in 1901, recommending legislation with a view to create an Indian Bar as in its opinion all distinctions induced by statute or by practice between Barristers and Pleaders.

The Government practically accepted the Resolution of Councils of the Bar and carried the opinion of the High Courts and the Local Governments on two questions, viz., the creation of an Indian Bar Council and the desirability of removing all distinctions between pleaders and advocates or by practice between Pleaders and Barristers. The Local Government's proposals necessitated the removal of them ex officio from the work of the High Courts. These matters were referred in 1932. Throughout the Indian Bar Committee was supported by the Government of India in November 1933, in report on the proposals made from time to time for constituting an Indian Bar with particular reference to the membership, standing, proposed emoluments and salary of Bar Council and its powers vis-à-vis High Courts and the extent to which it might be desirable to remove the existing distinction between Barristers and Advocates.

The Committee unanimously recommended the abolition of all distinctions.

The Committee also recommended that some measure of self-government should be granted to the Bar attached to some of the High Courts.

The first effect of these recommendations by Regulation 2 B.E. was introduced which was ultimately passed as the Indian Bar Councils Act of 1935. A Bar Council was created by the Act to achieve the desired object, viz., the all India unification and general co-ordination of the legal profession. But the reform accomplished by the Act did not go far enough either in power or in substance. The Act introduced some partial reforms regarding the constitution and status of the Bar Councils in relation to the High Courts but left completely untouched the powers of subordinate courts. The result therefore is that there has not been any improvement in the aspect of the legal practitioners of the subordinate courts. They are still governed by the provisions of the Legal Practitioners Act of 1902. These members are not entitled to sit in the High Courts by rules made under the Legal Practitioners Act.

The object of this Bill is to bring about the desired unification and co-ordination of the legal profession.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 25th February 1906—

L.A. BILL No. 11 OF 1906.

A Bill further to amend the Contempt of Courts Act, 1896, for certain purposes.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Contempt of Courts Act, 1896, for the purposes hereinafter appearing; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. (1) This Act may be called the Contempt of Courts (Amendment) Act, 1906.
- (2) It shall extend to the whole of British India.
- (3) It shall come into force on such date as the Governor General or Governor may, by notification in the Gazette of India, appoint.
2. After section 2 of the Contempt of Courts Act, 1896, there shall be inserted, namely:—
- “14. Whenever, by words spoken or written or by signs intended or by visible representation or otherwise, interference with or obstruction of the administration of justice in a court during the pendency of any case therein shall be deemed to constitute contempt of court within the meaning of subsections (1) and (2) of section 2.”
3. After section 3 of the said Act, the following new section shall be inserted, namely:—
- “15. A High Court or a Chief Court taking cognizance of any case of contempt under the provisions of this Act shall enquire or hold or fail to hold the accused person to trial his trial before itself and in trying the person shall, unless exempted, follow the procedure prescribed in Chapter XXI of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1896, for trial of summary cases.”

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Contempt of Courts Act of 1896 has defined and limited the powers exercisable by High Courts and Chief Courts in punishing contempts of court. But it has not laid down any definition of the offence of contempt of court nor has it laid down the procedure and penalties which should be followed in dealing with such offence. As the law stands now, one cannot speak with confidence as to when contumacious conduct amounts to contempt. There are different categories of contempts. It is intended merely to prohibit interference with or obstruction of the administration of justice during the pendency of a case or during the law of contempt in further and penalize all such adverse criticism of judges and their decisions even after the disposal of cases as may bring a court into contempt and constitute a prejudice to the interests of a defendant. Different courts will necessarily take different views. It would not be responsible for the Legislature to formulate a workable definition of an offence which it seeks to punish. In any case the courts will in each case have to find a delinquent by itself. It is not law and responsible to enact penal legislation without a real and direct definition of what the offence is. While preventing interference with the course of administration of justice this Bill seeks to give perfect freedom to the press and the public in the treatment of judicial cases. [Signed] decisions. As regards procedure, the jurisdiction is exempted in any exceptional measure and otherwise. The power of the court are not discretionary, unconditional and unrestricted. The area of jurisdiction of the High Court is a known thing and not a mystery. The Governor himself should not be the judge of the amount. Such decisions should be all the subjects of a regular trial. The procedure should be laid down. The Bill seeks to fill up the lacuna known in the existing law. The freedom of the press is not imperatively in jeopardy without the definition and procedure provided in the act.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Provincial Insolvency (Amendment) Act, 1939.

(2) It shall apply to the whole of British India, except the Scheduled Districts.

(3) It shall come into force immediately and shall apply to all pending proceedings.

Provided also that the true owner of any goods which have become absolute owner like contents of the insolvent under the provisions of clause (d) may prove for the value of such goods.”

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Civil Justice Commission Report (1964-65) Chapter XIV (para 229-45) is paragraph 24, 1965 submitted already as being Com-procedure to find the right, title and interest of the members of a Hindu Joint Mitakshara family after their the undivided house-and division of High Courts appeared to make the whole property of the undivided land in the House. At that time the Civil Justice Commission was not aware with violation of discussion as in theory a subject and stated in their opinion. But in course of a dozen years subsequent opinion has changed and it is the duty of the High Courts and even the Privy Council. In Puttappa P. Dhurairaj, 6 L.A.C. 1, A.I.R. 1955 P.C. 18 does not lay down any definite procedure. The result is that the wanted resolution is drawn from Court to Court and is subjected to a compromise with the members on disadvantageous terms. The senior sons of the husband, who are always legally protected, often move their heads in clouds at any stage during immature proceedings or after it, which creates a direct breach of the law, claims of "harassment and respect from Hindu men towards their husbands father and a newly married without violation on the part of the father. Consequently a claim by a son alleging the immaturity or illegality of a debt incurred by his father is not proved by selling and a transaction entered into by the father that always he entered with great respect, especially where the amounts of a loan are paid just in value of an action will have to be considered. The members of the joint family who take the action and not otherwise in the way. It is, therefore, necessary to stop these immature claims having an immediate place and interference by all members of the joint Hindu Mitakshara family and an agreement with the creditors and the undivided debts that a definite procedure to find share and the general equitable conditions must be made.

The present Bill proposes to provide for a certain procedure to safeguard the interests of the creditors, partners and members of the Joint Hindu Mitakshara family after their the undivided. At the Privy Council reports both the parties, creditors must be reported in the end, to find the right, title and interest of members of joint Hindu Mitakshara family after their the undivided. It should be understood to protect a regular civil and justice of those who were possible by advance claim by each partner of the joint family so that there may be greater administration, and each of the assets as may be found liable for the joint debts and its assets available to the creditors for the satisfaction of the general debts of the undivided.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 10th February 1909:—

L.A. BILL No. 29 OF 1909.

A Bill further to amend the Presbyterian Ministers Act, 1902.

Whereas it is expedient further to amend the law relating to Ministry in the Presbyterian Church and the right of Ministers and Knights for the purpose of providing provision for Presbyterian Ministers' Family Trust in being within the provision the right, title and interest of a member of a post-terre Minster's family after that the Minister; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. (1) This Act may be called the Presbyterian Ministers' Family Trust Act, 1909.

(2) It shall come into force immediately and shall apply to all Ministers' pending provisions.

2. In subsection (1) of section 22 of the Presbyterian Ministers' Act, 1902,—

“(1) after clause (1) the following shall be inserted as clause (1), namely:—

“(1) the capacity to hold the right, title and interest of the member of a post-terre Minister's family after that the Minister's family shall be provided as a regular trust and authorized by the General Assembly, representing the whole body of Ministers to be established with immutability or perpetuity, and not otherwise; and”;

“(2) clause (1) shall be amended as clause (1).

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Civil Justice Commission Report (1902-03) Chapter XIV (Pages 220-22) in paragraph 26 most eloquently defines in laying down procedure to hold the right, title and interest of the member of a post-terre Minister's family after that the Minister's family more decision of High Courts appeared to make the whole property of the Minister vest in the Receiver. As there have the Civil Justice Commission was not agreed with variation of provisions as to thereby a subject and vested in that system. But as even of a case there reduced upon the standard found in the shape of Minister's members among several High Courts and even the Privy Council in James F. Jellison (1903) 1 A.L.J. 105 P.C. 36. And with lay down any definite procedure. The result is that the vested interest is drawn from Court to Court and is subjected to a compromise with the Minister's administration. The result was of the Minister, who are always highly protected, often more their heads by obliged to say things during ordinary proceedings as after it, which involves a direct injury of the legal status of elegance and respect from their own towards their children. Indeed not a rarely involved without inclusion as the part of the Minister. Consequently a claim by a son, claiming the immediate or ultimate of a debt incurred by his father as the ground for setting aside a transaction entered into by the latter, must always be raised with great response, especially where the income of a son's life purchase for value at an auction sale have to be provided. The members of the post-terre family after that the Minister's family and children in the year. It is, therefore, necessary to stop these various claims based on equitable principle and authority by all members of the post-terre Minister's family and to safeguard both the creditors and the Minister's family that a definite procedure in that form and the present American practice must be noted.

The present Bill proposes to provide for a certain procedure to safeguard the interests of the creditors, partners and members of the joint Hindu Undivided Family when the members of the Executive represent both the parties, and such a procedure may be applied in fact and, in fact, the rights, title and interest of members of joint Hindu Undivided Family shall be preserved, as should be authorized to execute a regular deed and signed all those who may decide by adding them to such properties of the joint family as that there may be proper adjustment, and such of the assets as may be found liable for the joint debts may be made available to the Receiver for the satisfaction of the proved debts of the household.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Sparked from the fact that from the Census Report of 1931 it is known that in that year there were in India more than 60,000 persons who stated that they had been born outside the British dominions, there is an indication as to the number, nationality and whereabouts of foreigners in India, and, in the absence of any statutory obligation on foreigners to report their names and movements, or if possible to obtain such information. The only law which provides for the registration of foreigners is a law in that which is contained in sections 4 to 9 of the Foreigners Act (XII of 1939). These provisions, however, are intended for use in emergency only, and, apart from that, even if they were brought into force, they would apply only to foreigners entering, and not to those already resident, in British India. In the majority of other countries, both within and outside the British Commonwealth, foreign visitors and residents are required to report their names and movements in specified authorities, and the Governments of those countries are thereby possessed of all those of complete information as to the number and whereabouts of foreigners in their countries. It is desirable that the Government of India should also be in a position to possess such complete information, not only because it may be required for the purpose of national defence but also because, in the absence, it has been found to have been impossible to reply satisfactorily to questions asked in the Legislature and much difficulty and inconvenience has been experienced in replying to requests as to the whereabouts of foreigners in India which have been received from their relatives.

The Bill which is based upon provisions contained in the Passports Act, 1920 (British Alliance Restriction Act, 1914, and the British Alliance Order of 1920) is intended to provide the statutory basis necessary for the collection of such information.

KING, GEORGE,
The 21st February, 1926.

R. M. MAXWELL,

NOTES BY CHARGE.

Clause 1.—The collection of consular and diplomatic officers is based on usage which is contained in the practice so certain 5 of the Passports Act of 1920 and in Article 17 of the British Alliance Order, 1920.

Clause 2 (1).—Clauses 2(1), (2) and (3) are required to provide for the preparation of a register and for the subsequent maintenance. Analogous exist in clause 2(1), of subsection (1) of section 1 of the British Alliance Restriction Act, 1914, in Article 8 of the British Alliance Order of 1920, and in part, in sections 8 and 1 of the Passports Act of 1920.

(2). Clause 2(2).—Except at the time of entry into British India, clause 2(2) provides no power to demand of any person the production of his passport or proof of identity. This clause which is analogous to Article 8 (1) (a), (b) and (c) of the British Alliance Order, 1920, is intended to confer this power.

(3). Clause 2(3).—This provision is based upon Article 1 of the British Alliance Order of 1920 and is primarily intended for use in the case of hotels.

(4). Clause 2(4).—This clause has affinity with sections 28 to 32 of the Passports Act of 1920, clause 2(1) of subsection (1) of section 1 of the British Alliance Restriction Act, 1914, and Article 8 of the British Alliance Order of 1920. The construction of the above provisions will greatly facilitate the administration of the Act in the advantage not only of the collection but also of immigration themselves.

Clause 3.—Is based upon section 3 of the Passports Act, 1920, and subsection (1) of section 1 of the British Alliance Restriction Act of 1914.

Clause 4.—While clause 2 provides for certain provisions it is proposed to exempt British persons and such other persons as should not be required to register by virtue of exemption. Analogy exist in section 35 of the Passports Act, 1920, and Article 14 of the British Alliance Order of 1920.

Secretary to the Government of India.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 21th February 1936.—

S.S. BILL No. 24 OF 1936.

A Bill further to amend the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1923, for a certain purpose.

Various doubts have been entertained whether a workman employed on wages payable otherwise than by the month or on a monthly basis may be a workman within the meaning of the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1923.

Any question as to such doubts to remove those doubts, and for that purpose further to amend section 3 of that Act is the object of this Bill.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. (1) This Act may be called the Workmen's Compensation (Amendment) Act, 1936.

(2) It shall come into force on the 1st day of May 1936.

Provided that section 3 shall be deemed to have taken effect from the 1st day of June 1935.

2. In section 3 of the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1923—

(a) for the words "For the purposes of this Act the monthly wages of a workman shall be reckoned" the following shall be substituted, namely:—

"In this Act and for the purposes thereof the expression 'monthly wages' means the amount of wages payable to a workman for a month or on a monthly basis (whether the wages are payable by the month or by instalment or other period at a time stated, and averaged);"

(b) in clause (b), the words "deemed to be" shall be omitted.

3. Where in any proceedings under the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1923, commenced after the 1st day of July 1935, any person has been found by a Court not to be a workman within the meaning of that Act only by reason of the fact that his wages were payable otherwise than by the month or on a monthly basis, such finding shall be null and of no effect, and the Court shall, notwithstanding anything in the provisions of the Indian Evidence Act, 1908, or any other law for the time being in force, on application made within six months from the commencement of this Act by any person prejudicially affected by such finding, restore the proceedings of, and maintain the proceedings from the date recorded immediately before the order annulling or setting aside such finding was made.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Conflicting decisions of High Courts have caused doubts as to whether an account of the expression "employed on monthly wages" occurring in the definition of "workman" in the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1923, is correct. Those doubts are put otherwise thus by the words of an a monthly basis may arise in circumstances other than those of that Act. That a remedy should be so devised as that ground there not cover the intention of the Act, and so.

— 11720

whereas these declare a total fiscal collapse of the economy "morally bankrupt" is now proposed. The Bill also contains a provision enabling a committee which has been referred on the above ground to have the investigation of the claim referred.

List of countries which India in short the Agreement applies,

3. The Netherlands Indies.
4. Siam.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The Indo-Governmental Rubber Agreement of 1922 providing for the regulation of production and export of rubber and for control of movement of rubber cultivation was due to expire on the 24th December 1927. The International Rubber Regulation Committee appointed to administer the rubber regulation scheme had circulated to the contracting Governments the draft of a revised Agreement which provided for the continuance of the scheme for a further period of five years from the 1st January 1928. In the International Conference, the Indian States, and the other members concerned were unanimously of opinion that the rubber control scheme had been beneficial to the country, the Government of India decided to adhere to the revised Inter-Governmental Rubber Agreement. The Agreement had already been adopted by the most participating parties, namely the Ministry of Colonies in the United Kingdom (on behalf of Cyprus, Hong Kong, the Federated Malay States, the Dutch-ruled Malay States, the Straits Settlements, the State of North Borneo, Sarawak and Brunei), the Government of France (on behalf of French Indo-China), the Government of the Netherlands (on behalf of the Netherlands Indies) and the Government of Java.

2. The Indian Rubber Control Act, 1926, which was passed to implement India's obligations under the Inter-Governmental Rubber Agreement of 1926, empowers the Government of India to extend the duration of the Act for a further period. In pursuance of section 1 (5) of the Act a notification was issued in the Gazette of India on the 27th December 1938 which extended the operation of the Act up to the 31st December 1940. At the same time the revised Inter-Governmental Rubber Agreement and certain legislative changes and the Bill in its final form designed to amend the Indian Rubber Control Act, 1926, is in being the provisions of the Act in conformity with the provisions of the revised Agreement. Apparently too late when it seems some minor administrative details which the working of the Act has brought to light.

New Delhi,

Act, 1872, be presumed to be genuine as between the far as such bales are marked before leaving the factory in which it was pressed."

THE COTTON GINNING AND PRESSING FACTORIES ACT, 1875.

The Cotton Ginning and Pressing Factories Act was passed in 1875, with the object of putting the trade in a position to produce a well-graded cotton, and to prevent the use of inferior cotton in the manufacture of cotton goods.

Under the Act, every cotton gin and roller must be marked with the name of the owner, and the name of the factory in which it was pressed.

The Act also provides that any cotton which is not so marked shall be deemed to be inferior cotton, and shall not be used in the manufacture of cotton goods.

The Act was amended in 1900, and the amendments were designed to improve the system of marking cotton, and to prevent the use of inferior cotton in the manufacture of cotton goods.

The amendments provided that any cotton which is not so marked shall be deemed to be inferior cotton, and shall not be used in the manufacture of cotton goods.

The amendments also provided that any cotton which is not so marked shall be deemed to be inferior cotton, and shall not be used in the manufacture of cotton goods.

The amendments were designed to improve the system of marking cotton, and to prevent the use of inferior cotton in the manufacture of cotton goods.

The amendments provided that any cotton which is not so marked shall be deemed to be inferior cotton, and shall not be used in the manufacture of cotton goods.

The amendments also provided that any cotton which is not so marked shall be deemed to be inferior cotton, and shall not be used in the manufacture of cotton goods.

The amendments were designed to improve the system of marking cotton, and to prevent the use of inferior cotton in the manufacture of cotton goods.

The amendments also provided that any cotton which is not so marked shall be deemed to be inferior cotton, and shall not be used in the manufacture of cotton goods.

The amendments were designed to improve the system of marking cotton, and to prevent the use of inferior cotton in the manufacture of cotton goods.

The amendments also provided that any cotton which is not so marked shall be deemed to be inferior cotton, and shall not be used in the manufacture of cotton goods.

F. The cotton gins have represented that a rigid application of section 14 of the Act which renders as a person, who had made a contract for the purchase of ginned cotton, the right to reject a bag in fulfillment of a contract, if it is not marked as required by the law, causes great hardship to the trade, in that it enables purchasers to decline cotton and a full tender even if there are only minor technical faults in markings which are far less important than the usual paper marks prescribed for the bales. The Indian Council Cotton Commission which is concerned with the improvement and development of the growing, marketing and manufacture of cotton in India have urged that this section should be amended in such a manner that the right of a purchaser to reject a bale of cotton is limited to cases in which the bales does not bear the special marks prescribed for the factory under section 10 of the Act, and that if bales are correctly marked it should be presumed in favour of the buyer and the seller that they were marked before leaving the factory.

G. The Commission have also recommended an amendment of section 14 of the Act so completely have been proved that in certain cases, ginning and pressing facilities the construction of which was completed or commenced before the Act came into operation, additions and alterations are made which are not in accordance with the prescribed plans and specifications. It is accordingly proposed to amend that section so as to render the factory owner making alterations and additions to his factory liable to secure the alterations and additions to conform to the requirements which subsisting (1) of section 10 would have been in force in an original construction in so far as such requirements are directly relevant to the alterations or additions and in so far as the alterations or additions in separate machines the requirements from the machines as a whole.

H. The Bill proposes to give effect to the above proposals and advantages it aims to secure the proviso to section 14 of the Act.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 18th March 1935:—

L.A. BILL No. 30 OF 1935.

A BILL to reconstitute and reorganize the Committee constituted under the Indian Salt Cane Cess Act, 1925.

Enacted by the Committee constituted under the Indian Salt Cane Cess Act, 1925.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Salt Cane Cess Committee (Reconstitution and Reorganization) Act, 1935.

(2) It shall come into force on such date as the Central Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, appoint in this behalf, and shall remain in force so long only as section 2 of the Indian Salt Cane Cess Act, 1925, remains in force.

2. On the commencement of this Act, the Committee constituted under subsection (1) of section 1 of the Indian Salt Cane Cess Act, 1925, shall stand dissolved, and shall be reconstituted as Committee under subsection (1) of the said Act as amended by section 2 of this Act.

3. All the moneys held by the dissolved Committee shall vest in the Committee as reconstituted under section 2.

4. In the Indian Salt Cane Cess Act, 1925:—

(a) in the long title, and in the preamble, the word "and" where it occurs for the first time shall be omitted;

(b) in subsection (1) of section 2, the word "and" where it occurs for the second time, shall be omitted; and

(c) in subsection (2) of section 4, for the word "seven" the word "four" shall be substituted, and the word "and" shall be omitted.

(d) after clause (i) the following clause shall be inserted, namely:—

"(ii) those persons nominated by the Indian Cane Sugar Growers' Association;"

(e) after subsection (1) the following subsection shall be inserted, namely:—

"(1A) The Committee constituted under subsection (1) shall be called the Salt Cane Cess Committee and shall be a body corporate and have perpetual succession and a common seal and shall by the said name sue and be sued."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Government of Madras, before the Salt Cane Cess Committee constituted under section 2 (1) of the Indian Salt Cane Cess Act, 1925, consists of seven persons nominated by the Indian Cane Sugar Growers' Association and one person nominated by the Indian Cane Sugar Growers' Association. This Committee was constituted previously as the Committee of persons nominated by the said seven members of the Indian Cane Sugar Growers' Association.

2. The Committee was later altered owing to the coming into force of the Indian Cane Sugar Growers' Association which provides a permanent interest in the salt cane industry. A Bill under the Indian Salt Cane Cess (Amendment) Bill, 1935, was accordingly introduced in the Legislative Assembly in March 1935, to reconstitute the Committee of the Salt Cane Cess Committee on the basis of the interest of salt cane by the Secretary of the Indian Cane Sugar Growers' Association in the salt cane industry. The Bill was introduced for discussion on the 18th March 1935. In view, however, of certain constitutional deficiencies brought about by the coming into force of the Government of India Act 1935, it was decided to drop the Bill and to issue a suitable measure later.

3. The present Bill is designed principally to facilitate the representation on the Committee on the basis of an Agreement recently reached by all three communities concerned in the anti-race conflict. It also provides various formal changes contemplated by the membership of Orissa as a separate Province, and appropriate steps are being taken to incorporate the Committee.
